

DYNAMIC NETWORK SERVICES INCORPORATED

Long ago and far away in a sandwich shop on Elm Street.

We were sitting having lunch. Tom wanted to check his email. Jeremy didn't want to go back to the office, but knew he had some work that needed doing. The laptops came out but, sadly, there was no wireless Internet connection. So, after finishing our sandwiches we trudged back to the office. On the walk back we vowed – never again would lunch be cut short for lack of Internet access!

Back at the office, we looked into it. After some digging on Google and a bit of Mountain Dew-fueled late night equipment testing we found the solution. A Meraki community-based network was just the thing. Dynamic Network Services, Inc. would provide the Internet connection for free – all other businesses (and sandwich shops!) had to do was plug in an inexpensive signal repeater.

Bang – cheap and easy wireless Internet for everyone!

A few weeks later, wireless Internet came to that very first sandwich shop. We are now looking to expand this network (and our lunch options).

Please join this community based effort to bring free wireless Internet access to downtown.

Yours Truly,

Tom (President) & Jeremy (CEO)
